

Forecast For East Midlands
Issued by Met Office Exeter
at 1600 on Wednesday 02 Jun 2021

++ Valid for broadcast between 1800 and 0600

Headline:

Some overnight showers, possibly thundery. Very warm again Thursday.

This Evening and Tonight:

A warm evening but becoming cloudy with a few thundery showers developing. Showers mostly clearing to the north by dawn as some mist, low cloud and fog patches form. Minimum temperature 11 deg C (52 deg F).

Thursday:

Mist, low cloud and fog gradually clearing to leave a fine and warm sunny morning. Somewhat cloudier through the afternoon, but very warm. A small chance of thundery showers developing. Maximum temperature 26 deg C (79 deg F).

Outlook for Friday to Sunday:

Mainly dry Friday though an isolated shower is possible in the east. Feeling fresher. Largely fine Saturday and Sunday, with warm, sunny spells. Some coastal fog possible at times.

(C) Crown Copyright 2021. Published by the Met Office.